A SOCCER superstar has tweeted a picture of his head after undergoing a $46,000 hair transplant.

Wayne Rooney, the balding 25-year-old Manchester United and England striker, treated his followers to the first look at his new hair, but admitted he was suffering slightly after the procedure.

"Hi all there's my head. It will take a few months to grow. Still a bit bloody to. But that's all normal. #hairwego," Rooney tweeted.

Rooney later added: "Going airport now I'll chat to u all tomorrow. #hairwego."

Rooney joins the likes of cricketers Shane Warne, Ricky Ponting and Doug Bollinger.

The striker was spotted wearing a baseball cap and a hoodie despite the heat in England last Thursday when he left Queen Anne Street Medical Centre in London. Rooney, 25, later posted confirmation via his Twitter account that he had indeed undergone treatment to grow his hair back.

"Just to confirm to all my followers I have had a hair transplant. I was going bald at 25 why not. I'm delighted with the result," he tweeted

"It's still a bit bruised and swollen when it dies down u will be first to see it. Anyone recommend any good hair gel. Haha."

His wife, Coleen, tweeted: "Hiya!! Yes waynes had his hair done! His own decision not me asking him, like alot are saying!! Pleased for him and it will look great x".

Rooney's team-mate, Rio Ferdinand, posted: "just don't go down the wearing a alice band route!!

"You'll be doing head&shoulders adverts soon! Hope its gone ok Good luck lad".
